

YOUR INVITATION TO THE NEW YEAR'S DAY...

Bluegrass picnic

Tuesday 1 January 2019
12.30pm

You're invited to the annual Adelaide Bluegrass Picnic.

Botanic Park (near, but north of, the back gates of the Botanic Gardens).

Bring everything: instruments, songs, tunes, chairs, lunch, drinks, hats, friends and family.

How to get there: Car entrance is off Hackney Road, down Plane Tree Drive. Free parking all around Botanic Park and along Hackney Road (on public holidays in normal spaces, but not permit zones). The early birds get the closest parking spots (most of the close ones are taken by about 11am or earlier, so be prepared to walk in if you arrive later).

Kids and toilets? Yes: toilets are near the back gates of the Botanic Gardens.

Shade? Yes, lots of big trees.

In recent years there have been banjos, fiddles, mandolins, harmonicas, guitars and many songs in harmony.

This is an informal gathering, not co-ordinated with Adelaide City Council or the Botanic Gardens. The Botanic Park is open to all.
